2017 SOUTH CAROLINA HISTORIC PRESERVATION AWARD WINNERS HONORED DURING CEREMONY AT STATE HOUSE

COLUMBIA, SC – Winners of the 2017 South Carolina Historic Preservation Awards were honored on Friday, June 16th during a ceremony at the State House. The awards were presented by Governor Henry McMaster and were sponsored by the Office of the Governor, the South Carolina Archives and History Foundation, the South Carolina Department of Archives and History, and The Palmetto Trust for Historic Preservation. Awards highlight six categories (Honor, Stewardship, Preservation Service, Heritage Tourism, Elected Official Honor Award, and the Governor's Award) and recognize the exceptional accomplishments of preservation, rehabilitation and interpretation of the Palmetto State's architectural and cultural heritage.

Snipped section as it relates to Holtendorff:

“Holtendorff Hall at Clemson University received an Honor Award for the restoration of the Italian Renaissance style building designed by Professor Rudolf Lee. Constructed in 1915 to serve as the YMCA for Clemson Military College, the building was repurposed over the years for classrooms and offices. In 2015, archival research and paint analysis were compiled into a rehabilitation plan for the building. Completed in 2016, the project led by Clemson University Historic Properties, 1st Class Construction and Preservation South, returned the auditorium to a vibrant space used Monday through Friday. The positive response of students, faculty, and alumni has inspired the administration to plan more rehabilitation projects on other notable campus buildings.”

Facilities Continues To Bring Safety To New Heights - Up To 60 Feet!

Facilities recently purchased a JLG Compact Crawler Lift. With this lift, Facilities will be able to perform more tasks and provide better customer service.

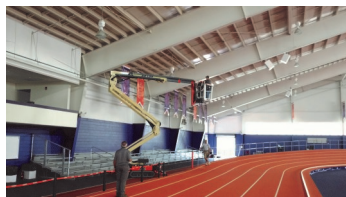

The lift will:

- Enter through a single door.
- Access narrow spaces.
- Allow employees to provide maintenance to lobbies, auditoriums, and other areas in university buildings where Facilities employees could not reach.
- Perform outside maintenance on buildings such as soft washings and building repairs.

Facilities employees will become an authorized operator to safely operate the lift after completing training. The training includes:

- Tip over hazards.
- Fall hazards.
- Electrocution hazards.
- Crushing hazards.
- Operating fundamentals.

As you can see, Facilities has once again made a big investment in employee safety and providing greater customer service to the Clemson University community.

If you have information, an article, upcoming event or compliment you would like included in future Facilitator issues, please send the information to:

Subject: RE: Edwards Hall Exterior Doors

Good afternoon,
Wanted to let you know the exterior doors are fixed and the ones that are not, Rusty McDonald and Tony Westbrook are looking into. They were extremely helpful and answered all questions we had. Please let them know how thankful we are to have them go above and beyond as they did today. Their patience and kindness to this office is much appreciated!

Subject: Service Recognition

Tammi Burdette has a wonderful customer service demeanor. Tammi is helpful, resourceful and has always exhibited a team player viewpoint. I appreciate Tammi's proactive and courteous responses when she is asked a question that may go beyond the call of duty.

Best,
Connie Robinson
Office of Research & Graduate Studies

Connie,
Thank you for sharing the recognition of one of our employees. We have always valued Tammi's work ethics and professionalism in the daily operations here at Facilities. She has always been willing to go the extra mile for us and our customers. I value her input and her experience is greatly respected.
Thank you again.

Subject: Clemson Landscape and Grounds

Tommy (Fallaw),

I had the opportunity to visit Clemson a couple weeks ago. My daughter is undergoing the search for a college home after she graduates high school in 2018. On this trip we visited Elon, Duke, Wake, UNC Chapel Hill, and Clemson.

I just want to compliment you and your staff on the condition of the campus. As we are touring campuses I'm probably being a bit more critical of the landscape, grounds, facilities and infrastructure than my daughter is.

Clemson isn't quite what I remembered it to be when I toured the campus after I was accepted in 1990 (did not attend though).

You and your staff are doing a great job with the upkeep and maintenance of the grounds.

Please give your staff my compliments at a job well done. I know that they are as busy as mine, as we prepare for commencement in a few weeks and a little bit of encouragement goes a long way.

Warmest regards...

Marc Smith

To: Gregory Gibbs

Good morning Greg and Mike (Smith),
I would like to commend you for hiring the company Jet Set to clean the exterior of Lee Hall. The task that Jim Wilcox is currently conducting at Lee Hall is already exhibiting remarkable results. We appreciate the efforts and positivity that cleaning of the external walls and walkways bring to our area. Whether we like it or not - appearance has a great bearing upon the impact as to how others judge us. Our surroundings are taking on a whole new life of exuberance and pride, not only for us, but to those who visit or study in Lee Hall.

Once again, thank you.

Best,
Connie Robinson

From Todd:

So, this week I'm thinking about Christmas in July. No, I haven't started my list. A few days ago, the vending committee met to award funding to departments from vending machine proceeds that are used for things that can't be paid from our normal sources (parties, gifts, etc.) The requests are usually 3-4 times the amount available, and almost no one gets the amount requested. For many years, University Facilities has asked for funds for our holiday lunch and spring picnic, and we have always been supported. This year, I was a little nervous because there were so many new faces in the room. However, I should never have been concerned. In one of the shortest discussions of the day, we were granted 100% of our request with the common theme "of course we are funding Facilities for all they do for us." I know this may seem a small thing, but it is another reminder to me of what a great impact you all have across this campus. Each cleaning, repair, project and other service may seem a small part of the many tasks you are faced with each day, but each one means so much to the faculty, staff and students you serve. As fall semester approaches, we will all be frustrated with the challenges brought by the return of thousands of students. Please continue to do what you do and focus on the little things that can make their return even better. Whether it is taking time to give directions, going out of the way to keep a customer informed or just doing that one extra tweak that is above and beyond what is required, know that it does make a difference. They may not always say it, but they will appreciate the effort. As you all work to prepare the campus in the hottest heat of summer, know that I am always grateful for what you accomplish, but most importantly for the caring people that you are. Hang on. The December cold, and our Christmas lunch, will soon be here!

Todd
